Well! Most of made it so far from this pandemic! I know some of us did not. I would really like to know of any members who did not survive the pandemic. If you know of any of these members, please let me know with the contact information listed below this memo.

All things considered, I think we did well to renew all the members that we did. We certainly could have done better, but let us look ahead and not behind. You or anyone you know can still renew their membership with the following: <https://mylegion.org/PersonifyEbusiness/Home>. You can also send your $50 to me, but this may delay your membership for several weeks. Our membership drive began July 1st and we have now processed over 862 members. That means we have nearly 600 members who have still not renewed.

Forms will be made available soon for our 2022 Reunion in Ft Walton Beach, FL. Please begin to plan now for the reunion, Jeff has negotiated a great deal for us.

On the positive side of membership, there is an effort to revise, renew, or organize a California Division of China Post 1. If you are inclined to participate, please contact Robert Protzman at: protzman@comcast.net

NOTE: IF YOU HAVE CHANGED YOUR EMAIL OR ADDRESS
PLEASE LET ME KNOW. IF I DON'T KNOW ABOUT THE CHANGE,
YOU WILL MISS EMAILS OR LETTERS.

Finally, I know there are many of you who have not received your membership card. I know it is a hassle, but please notify me if you still do not have a new card. I am working on many of these, and I will continue to do so!

China Post 1 Sons of The American Legion (SAL) Squadron

By Leroy Cockrell, Squadron Commander

Greetings Comrades, my best to you and yours!

What a seasonal Fall it has been since our last communication, and not without plenty of news! Aside from pandemonia and the assortment of mixed messages out of Washington, I think we're all anxious to just get back to the proverbial normal... although the definition of normal might have changed. Certainly, our responsibility to the veterans and their families has not changed, and I hope each of you have pondered those obligations that we all have agreed to with our membership in the Sons of the American Legion!

Our newest news for our troop is that Lewis "Socko" Reeder has been selected to be our Vice Commander of China Post 1's Sons of the American Legion Squadron. Socko is a Legion member of CP1 as well as being a seasoned rider in our Dragon Riders chapter of American Legion Riders. Many of you may already know Socko and if not, I hope in the not-too-distant future you have occasion to do so. Socko has been a member of our Legion squadron for many years, and last year he transferred his SAL membership from Wichita Kansas Post 256 to China Post 1. His wife Diane and his daughter Cassandra are also members of CP1's Auxiliary. His family is exemplary of what an American Legion family should look like!

As mentioned above, Linda and I went to the National AL Convention in Phoenix in August, but not without making the second half of the AL Legacy Run which preceded the Convention. As usual, it was a great ride that traversed some gorgeous country just west of where we live in Ruidoso, NM. As a bonus, the ride spent one of their nights here in Ruidoso, which gave us a chance to have a group of 14 China Post 1 friends out to the cabin. We ate well and were refreshed with a great evening on the deck before getting back to our beds for some zzzz's and the next day's ride, which took us to Show Low Arizona. See the pic below of the CP1 group.

Moving on now to the National Convention in Phoenix; although it seemed to be a smaller crowd than usual, the enthusiasm for the occasion was full force after having the previous year's meetings cancelled. Representation from China Post 1 and DOF was sparse, again with the COVID pandemic having its effect on them. One highlight of the SAL meetings was our presentation of the squadron's contributions to the American Legion Child Welfare Foundation and The American Legion Veterans & Children's Funds on the second day of the meetings. I was honored to be able to make this presentation and can only thank you all for it.

As some of you SAL members may know, there have been some administrative changes within China Post 1. Earlier this summer the Executive Board removed the Post Commander and the Post Adjutant with cause. The EB is operating within the Constitution and By-Laws of China Post 1, a Post of the American Legion and member of the Department of France. The EB is an active participant with the Commander and his staff because of not having a quorum at the last reunion's General Meeting held in August of 2019 in Colorado Springs. The American Legion suggests at least a 10% representation of the Membership for a quorum to qualify votes. Our Constitution was modified in the distant past to require 100 members (around 7%) be present for a quorum and allow a membership vote on Post business matters. I understand that the last time that happened was in the 1980's, and took place in Bangkok! None the less, without a quorum at the General Meetings which are held yearly at the reunion, the Executive Board is tasked with operating the Post with the slate of officers. Aside from all this hype, China Post 1 is continuing to operate under the guidance of the new Commander (previously Deputy Commander) Jeff Carson. Hans Stockenberger has been made Deputy Commander, and Terry Parker is Adjutant. We are rightfully so, a very proud and historically significant Post of the American Legion! Our historical presence in the past 102 years is exceptional and made so because of our extraordinary leadership over the years and an uncompromising membership. This goes back to China Post 1 being commissioned in Shanghai China the same year as the American Legion was established! Absolutely nothing has changed in these regards, and we should all be busting our buttons proud of our beloved China Post 1 and ALL its membership!

For those of you that are wondering where your 2022 membership cards are, the transition to American Legion's National site has been rough! It began July 1 with the new year (2022), and despite vast improvements being made, there are still anomalies that we are all dealing with. Those among you that have paid your dues please understand the situation, and if we get to mid-December without receiving our cards, I will send each of you a copy of your membership that shows the 2022 dues being paid. Stand by on that one!

Additionally, remember that any pictures or information about veteran related activities that you might have taken part in are welcomed for future Poop Sheet SAL articles. Just send me what you have, (salcmdr@chinapost1.org) and I will edit at your direction if needed. And, thanks to all our SAL Members for being members of this very worthwhile Veterans Organization Family!

TAPS: None reported during the Summer Quarter.

China Post 1 Auxiliary

By Linda Cockrell, Auxiliary President

As you know, I have been working to get CP1 Auxiliary representation, in the form of voting delegates, at the National Convention. We are being disenfranchised despite paying our dues and fulfilling all requirements for membership.

I went to the National Convention in August and, again, was not able to attend as a voting delegate, so I went as a guest. I have corresponded and met with Kelly Circle, who is the National Executive Director, about CP1 Auxiliary's dilemma. After consulting with the National C&B Chair and other headquarters' staff, Kelly has sent me their assessment of the circumstances.

The facts are:

- China ALA Unit 1 is not part of an established ALA department.
- Legion Post China 1 is part of the Department of France (an ALA unit is assigned to the same department as its aligned Legion Post – Bylaws, Article 1, Section 7).
- The ALA does not have a chartered Department of France.

Kelly invited us to reach out to the C&B Chairman, and/or our National Staff Governance Specialist to discuss options, and to decide which is best for our circumstances. I am preparing to do that during the next few weeks. I will be meeting with our Board of Directors to come up with a plan.

CP1 AUXILIARY LEGACY RUN PARTICIPANTS HAVE DINNER AT THE COCKRELLS'

Before the National Convention in August, Leroy and I had the opportunity to join the Legacy Run. It started in Rogers AK and ended in Phoenix AZ, where the National Convention was held.

The third night of the run was spent in our beautiful Ruidoso NM. Leroy and I invited our China Post 1 brothers and sisters to have dinner at our home. It turned out to be a nice evening to sit out on the deck, eat, drink, and take in the view!

We enjoyed getting to know everyone better, plus we made some new friends. I made a big pot of Bear Bait Stew, which has a story behind its name, and we ended dinner with Popsicles & ice cream sandwiches, which delighted the Clark brothers! We had three CP1 Auxiliary ladies in attendance.

AL CP1 Auxiliary Members and Friends: Sauna Obermiller, Anita Mennel, Linda Cockrell (President), Clara Pon (Member), & Diana Reeder (Member)

Once again, I want to encourage everyone who has not paid the 2021 and/or 2022 dues of $25 to do so. It would be nice to have everyone paid as we start the new year!

I wish everyone a very "Happy Thanksgiving!" Be safe and stay well! Remember we have a lot to be thankful for because of all who have served, and those who are serving now. Let us especially remember those who will not be home for the holidays, their families and loved ones. Let us thank God for everyone fighting to keep our country free.

40 & 8 Voiture 1496

By Ron Butts, Chef de Gare, Grande du France

Bonjour from the Grande du France!!!!

Before we get into the nitty-gritty, we all want to wish all of you, regardless of whether you belong to CP1, the 40&8, the SAL, or the Auxiliary, a very Happy Holiday season, regardless of which varietal you celebrate, and a Happy New Year of the Gregorian variety!

On to the business site: for years Voiture 1496 has paid for the memberships of folks that have not paid themselves for whatever reasons, or had already passed away, just to look good on the ledger of the national organization. However, we have not had real promenades in two years and have not been able to hold fundraisers in the form of sales and/or raffles. Neither have we been able to do much recruiting among new CP1 members.

Looking at numbers, we have talked to among ourselves, and to other members who have been around for the longest time, and have come to the conclusion that it is no longer a viable option to continue to do that, and pay for people who have not paid for years!!!! It takes too much money away from the Nursing Scholarship that is THE CORE PROGRAM of the 40&8. So, we decided to take it in the shorts this year and clear out the roster: We continued to pay for those members who have paid last year but will not carry members who obviously no longer want to belong. If you forgot to pay this year or last year, for that matter, and still want to help us to keep the Nursing Scholarship funded, please send your dues, $30, to Jerry Miller, PO Box 13191, Casa Grande, AZ 85130. We will not charge interest!!!!

This is also a good time to again thank Bill Woodier for the work he has done for the Nursing Scholarship, and Rob Hendershot for picking the program up. We also want to thank Larry Ratts for donating $2,000 (2x$1,000) for this year's applicants over and above our allocated scholarship funds.

Operation Comfort Warriors

The Legion contacts officials at military hospitals, warrior transition units and surrounding communities, and obtains lists to determine which items are most needed by wounded, injured or ill servicemembers. Once a need is identified, the items are ordered by the Legion and delivered in an expeditious manner. It is as simple as that. No red tape. Check out www.legion.org/ocw for the latest news and information about the program.

Inside Old Shanghai's American Club

Even with decades of unwashed grime and a chipped façade, the Georgian edifice on Fuzhou Road always maintained its grace, unbowed even by the unsavory photographs of crime busts displayed on its stately brick walls in the days when it served as a court. So, it is especially nice to see the onetime American Club getting a thorough and seemingly sympathetic renovation before its next act – this time as the Shanghai Financial Court, according to the construction workers who are getting it ready.

The building has been closed up tight for years, ever since the court moved out (save that brief, glorious moment in 2008 when the Hungarian Consulate held the Year of Hudec exhibition in the ghostly, unrenovated space), so it was a real treat to take advantage of the construction chaos and wander through the building, all the way up to the former roof garden.

The fireplace of the American Club's old billiards room.

The seed of Shanghai's American Club was a bridge club – “the Slam Club” – started in 1916. The club grew quickly, and was incorporated in 1917 (in Delaware), and by 1921 had outgrown its premises on Nanjing Road. The new Fuzhou Road site for the club was purchased in 1922, and by the time construction started, membership had reportedly reached 1,000, 90 percent of whom were American, although the Club was open to all foreign nationalities. The building was to be a showcase for American materials, as far as was possible, and the American architectural firm of R.A. Curry was hired to design the building. It was Curry's associate who did most of the work on this building, a promising young Hungarian architect named Laszlo Hudec.

Men – and it was all men, until 1937 – mounted the Italian marble double staircase to the main floor, or descended to the basement. In the basement, Russian masseurs pounded out kinks in the Turkish baths, Russian tonsorial artists snipped in the barbershop, and there was a bowling alley and pin pool, too.

The main floor contained a capacious bar, adjacent to the billiards room, the latter in oak paneling, with beamed ceilings.

The first floor contained the card room, lounge, library – all in oak – and a mah-jongg room “designed in the correct Chinese style by an expert Chinese designer brought from Peking,” reported the China Weekly Review. The second, third, and fourth floors – accessed by the then-state-of-the-art Otis lifts - were the Club residences, for members or their guests. Seventeen bedrooms on each floor, each with private bathroom and built-in closets. “All the elements of home comforts with those of Shanghai social life,” gushed the North China Herald. On our wander through, these were the least interesting floors – just a stretch of hallway with rooms on either side. But then came the pièce de resistance.

The fifth floor Dining Room and Assembly Room is, quite possibly, the loveliest room in all Shanghai. Just imagine when it was all done up: American Maplewood floors, polished to a high sheen, grand chandeliers dripping with crystals, rich velour curtains in wine red and bronze, and a large oil painting of George Washington.

The American Club was resolutely all-male (as, indeed, were most clubs in Shanghai), deigning to allow ladies just once a year, on George Washington’s birthday. Nevertheless, they had some foresight, for the Dining Room did have a ladies’ room, decorated in grey tones with French plate mirrors. That proved quite useful in 1937, when the Club inaugurated a Ladies’ Section. The Assembly Room was converted into a Ladies’ Lounge, with tables for mahjong and bridge, and the ladies had their own reception area on the ground floor. Although initially open only to member’s wives, there was discussion about opening it further, as there had been keen interest from businesswomen.

“The entrance hall is to be of colonial effect, with marble pilasters.” (China Weekly Review, Nov. 10 1923).
The double staircase is covered with construction cloth.

The sixth floor bears the low ceilings and narrow stairs of the staff quarters, and indeed, this is where the kitchen and servants’ quarters were located, for proximity to the Dining Room. It is worth heading up there, though, because that route also takes you up to the roof.

The rooftop garden is long gone, and that is a very different view – but you can still see the sprawling Municipal Council building across the street, the back of the fire station, the spires of Trinity Cathedral, and Elliott Hazzard’s Shanghai Power building. Perhaps the new residents will revive the garden, who knows?

When the American Club opened, the North China Herald wrote, “With the opening of the club, the American community has made it clear that it intends to remain in Shanghai ... When Americans in the homeland settled on the frontier, they first erected a school building, then a church, but when they built a clubhouse, it was certain that they intended to remain where they were.” Shanghai’s Americans remained where they were for another quarter century, but the vicissitudes of history meant that clubhouse or no clubhouse, they could not remain. But for all these years, their clubhouse has stubbornly remained where it was, its long-ago story still in the bricks, plaster, oak, and ironwork put up almost a century ago.

He represented American in WW II and Korea. In 1965 he joined Air America and spent 10 years in Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, and the Sudan. For this he received no recognition and little recompense. He did not expect there to be. John was the friend of many, and is survived by family, friends, his fellow Air America and China Post 1 warriors, and his beloved dog Zeppelin. ## News from Our Members

CP1 Meeting - Bill Cowell and Jim Lint

On 21 Nov 2021, a long phone call transpired with the member who signed my (Jim Lint's) Blue Card back in 1990. Bill Cowell is a retired Army Intelligence SGTMAJ, now working at the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) on the Pueblo Project. Bill works the issues before public disclosure, a review that many of us have had to do for pre-publication. His last project involved the Nixon Tapes for many years of classification reviews. He is doing well, and visits many of our old units at Fort Meade. He did give a great review of some visits to the new Army Museum at Fort Belvoir, VA.

A CP1 meeting happens when two members meet. Bill and I have worked multiple times in multiple countries.

George White

George reports that he recently attended a luncheon initiated by Access to Justice wherein Patrick Brady, MOH, talked about the establishment of the MOH museum in Arlington, Texas. George received an award for volunteering over 50 hours of service Texas Lawyers for Texas Veterans (TLTV).

Jim Grimshaw

Jim has been selected for induction into the Georgia Military Veterans' Hall of Fame Class of 2021.

There are three categories for selection: VALOR, ACHIEVEMENT, SERVICE. Jim's selections reads:

GRIMSHAW, James McLennon: VALOR; USA; Major; Vietnam; Townsend" (Georgia).

The GMVHOF Induction Ceremony and Banquet took place on Saturday, November 6, 2021, at Saint Luke Ministry Center (301 11th St.), Columbus, Georgia.

Also, Jim will be attending the Casper Aviation Platoon Reunion 2022, as a guest speaker. The reunion will take place during 28-31 March 2022 at the Tropicana Hotel, Las Vegas.

Hans Stockenberger

Our Deputy Commander Hans Stockenberger was elected President of FODPAL (Foreign and Outlying Department and Posts of The American Legion) during the annual FODPAL breakfast at the National Convention of The American Legion, held in Phoenix in August of this year, and he was subsequently installed at the FODPAL meeting held during the American Legion Fall Conference in Indianapolis 4-7 October 2021.

FODPAL includes more than 15,000 members in 250 posts of The American Legion, located in six departments located outside the borders of the continental United States. Those departments include Alaska, Hawaii, France, Mexico, the Philippines, and Puerto Rico, as well China Post 1 operating in Exile. FODPAL was organized in the early 1950s.

There are no records in The American Legion National Library before 1962. The first recorded FODPAL commander was Ralph Westerfield of Puerto Rico, who held the position from 1962-1971. Since then, FODPAL elections have been held at the Annual FODPAL Breakfast during the National Convention, and the term of office is one year. We have no records from 1978-1980 and 1982-1983. FODPAL commanders have hailed from Puerto Rico, the Philippines, Mexico, Canada, France, Italy, the Panama Canal Zone, China Post 1, Hawaii and Alaska. At the 2010 National Convention in Milwaukee, Jimmie Foster from the Department of Alaska was elected national commander, the first from a FODPAL department.

The purpose of FODPAL is to promote the 4 Pillars of The American Legion; advocate a closer spirit of cooperation among the FODPAL membership and the national organization of The American Legion, departments, and posts, and to improve and maintain open communications, to keep FODPAL members better informed about national and international policy changes germane to the overall service mission of The American Legion.

Marshall Brown

Marshall reports that he recently published his second book on Amazon titled: The Secret of a Better Memory: History, Mystery, Mastery; A short book on a longer memory. Background on the book: The history of memory methods from pre-history down to current practices. Takes the mystery out of the memory masters who remember the names of an entire audience, or the order of a stack of cards, seemingly at a glance. Delves into some of the more recent advances in understanding and improving our native memory. If you were looking for a book written by a memory contest winner, this is not it. This is a book written by someone like you, who struggles with the same memory problems that most people do, and wanted to learn more about the process and what might be done to offset it.

Ronald Richards

On 31 October 2021, Ronald Richards was sworn in as a Colorado Ranger. Established in 1861, the Colorado Rangers served as Colorado's first statewide law enforcement agency until the 1920s. More recently in 2017, the Colorado Rangers Law Enforcement Shared Reserve (CLER) was formed as a statewide government and POST Certified Law Enforcement Agency, supporting numerous Law Enforcement agencies and governments throughout Colorado as their police reserves.

Richards, a retired Army LTC, was the oldest cadet at the age of 67 in the recently graduated Police Academy. According to Richards, it was like Army Basic Combat Training all over again; but with a twist, as we were taught not to be marksmen, but rather "gun fighters."

One of the challenging aspects of law enforcement today, is that most police departments have experienced a substantial reduction of their manpower due to the political climate, and the way the public has castigated the police for the perceived abuse of force committed by a few officers around the country. Many departments lack the resources to provide adequate police coverage for their communities; so, Richards made the decision to help where needed.

Richards, who enlisted in 1973 and was later commissioned a 2LT in 1979, spent some 33 years of combined active and reserve duty in military counterintelligence, and other assignments. He retired from the Army in 2006 and then went to work for MPRI, Inc., as an SME contractor in Afghanistan, teaching Afghan military, police, and intelligence officers their trade.

He then went to work as a Federal Investigator for the U.S. Department of Labor for seven years in Houston, Texas.

Richards now enjoys retired life in Colorado; and spends his time motorcycling, flying ultralight aircraft, occasional school substituting, and of course, his latest passion in volunteer law enforcement as a Colorado Ranger.
